

Filter Debris Analysis identifies contaminants and wear mechanisms that never make it to the oil sample or would not be detected by traditional methods of elemental analysis. This testing can detect failure in its earliest stages and greatly facilitate root cause analysis should failure occur.

Filter Debris Analysis:

- bridges the gap between elemental analysis & particle count
- determines particle size & type & wear type
- facilitates root cause analysis

View Filter Debris Analysis Product Guide